Are You A Delinquent?

The postoffice department is asking some very pertinent questions of the publishers of the country among them being one as to the number of subscribers on their lists who are in arrears on subscription. The REPUBLICAN's list of paid up subscribers are sure will average up with any of the country weeklies, but it still contains too many who are in arrears more than one year. If you are one of these you know it and should hasten to square the account, because we do not want to cut you off the list, but that is what may have to be done unless we are willing to pay postage on the same amounting to just half the subscription price of the paper, which of course you will not expect us to do.

This is intended for every subscriber who is a year or more in arrears. Please heed the call.

Death of Mrs. J. Fred. Neill.

Mrs. J. Fred. Neill died at an early hour this Wednesday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Carson, at Nettown, Pa. Mrs. Neill came home Thursday from Wheeling, W. Va., ill from stomach trouble. She was aged 42 years and is survived by her husband and one son, aged six years. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. A more extended notice of the deceased will be given next week.

—Friends here have received word of the death, yesterday morning, of Harlan Emerson, the 15 month-old son of Rev. and Mrs. A. H. M. Zahniser at their home in Ridgway, after a brief illness. The body will be brought to Tionesta tomorrow, Thursday, on the 11 o'clock train, and a burial service will be conducted at Riverside cemetery by Rev. G. A. Garrett. Funeral services will be held at the residence in Ridgway, Wednesday evening, Rev. J. J. Zahniser officiating.

—Acknowledgment of subscription renewals is made as follows, with thanks: Wilson King, W. N. Zahniser, East Hickory, Pa.; James Grove, P. W. Maxwell, Kellettville, Pa.; Geo. Crider, M. E. Taylor, (new), Endeavor, Pa.; Mrs. W. B. Ogford, R. W. Zuendel, (new), Starr, Pa.; W. T. Hurlbut, Tacoma, Wash.; W. W. Jamieson, Waterford, Ohio; Philip Maze, Redcliffe, Pa.; H. A. Dotterer, Munette, Pa.; Lewis Arner, Kellettville, Pa.; S. C. Johnston, Tionesta.

—William H. Roth, one of Oil City's oldest and most popular hotel keepers until he retired from that business, is in a serious condition in the hospital in that city. Some time ago a sore developed on his right foot resulting in blood poisoning, and as a means of saving his life amputation of the leg below the knee was resorted to. His condition at last accounts was serious but the physicians had not lost hope. Mr. Roth is known far and wide as one of the most genial of men, and a host of old friends will hope for his recovery. He is upward of 70 years of age.

—According to the Corry papers two bids and for buyers have been at Corry bidding against each other for about $35,000 worth of furs, the property of Drought & Co., one of them being the representative of a Leipzig, Germany, house, and the other of a New York firm. Among the lot were 3,000 skunk hides, which alone represent a big lot of capital. Two hundred fox, 7,000 muskrat, 300 mink and 300 white weasel were included in the stock. About 2,000 even and nearly 3,000 possum skins will also be sent out by the Drought concern in the next few days.

—Rev. J. K. Adams, a Methodist minister who was transferred at the last M. E. conference from Ringold, Jefferson county, to Frewsburg, N. Y., died at his home in Frewsburg on Sunday afternoon, February 16, 1913 after a long illness of pneumonia. His death came as a great shock to relatives and friends. The interment was made at Ringold on Wednesday. Mr. Adams was born and reared in Jefferson county and his last resting place will be in the vicinity of his childhood home and his last pastorate, previous to Frewsburg. Some years ago he was stationed at Marienville where the people held him in high esteem and will be saddened to learn of his death.

—Enclosing a check of generous proportions to pay his subscription away in advance, our valued old friend, W. W. Jamieson, who is at present taking an outing at the National capital, says: "I value the paper as an old acquaintance, dating back to the year 1888, I being among the first readers of the REPUBLICAN. If my memory serves me right it was owned and managed by Mr. Dunn with your valuable assistance, as a boy in those early days of forty-five years ago when you and I were boys together. I hope to continue reading it the remainder of my days." Our friend Wilbur has lived in West Virginia for a number of years, where we are pleased to note that he has met with excellent success in the oil business. He has lately changed his address to Waterford, Ohio.

—We are sorry to report a dry hole at the well near the State bridge in Green township. Drillers George Holeman and Phil Blum went up last week to drill the well to the Balltown sand, expecting to reach it near the 2000 foot depth, but found it at a depth of 1633 feet. When the sand was tapped there was a small amount of gas apparent, and as the drill further penetrated the sand there was a mere suspiration of oil in the sand-pumpings, but so slight was the showing that the venture is considered a complete "duster." Whether the operators will drill for a deeper sand has not yet been determined, but it is doubtful. P. S.—It has since been decided to drill the well about 250 feet deeper, to the Cooper sand. George Holeman and Willis Harmon went up today to begin drilling.

—Guy Hunter of East Hickory was the successful bidder for the star route mail contract between Kellettville and Tionesta, and on July 1, 1913, will assume his duties as the route agent. For several years past the route contract has been held by J. F. Hay, of Kribbs & Hay, livermen, at Kellettville, and the mail has been handled with consummate care and precision. John Cunningham has been the faithful carrier through all these years, and has made the round trip, covering nearly 30 miles, every day in the year excepting Sundays. It is doubtful whether in all that time he has missed a half dozen trips all told, and these only when travel by man or beast was simply out of the question. We think John surely deserves to be retired on a good pension. We understand Mr. Hunter's bid for the route was $1,225.00.

—Mrs. Bart Wiles of the borough, who has been ill for the past three weeks, is some better now.

—Bert Rudolph, serving as a juror from Endeavor this week, gave us a call Monday morning.

—J. G. Passauer, serving as a juror from the Township, was a welcome caller at this office Monday.

—Mrs. J. B. Muse and mother, Mrs. George, spent Monday and Tuesday visiting friends in Franklin.

—Misses Alice Higgins and Florence Dale of West Hickory were over-Sunday guests of Miss Olive Lanson.

—Mrs. Joseph W. Landers went to Pittsburgh Monday to purchase spring millinery goods for F. Walters & Co.

—Miss Stella Gilmore, of Oil City, and Mrs. Mary Thompson, of Nebraska, were week end guests of Miss Edna Walters.

—Miss Violet Daugherty, of Oil City, was a guest of Mrs. Robert A. Fulton at the Central House, Friday and Saturday.

—W. A. Hartman, P. W. Maxwell, James Ault and R. W. Watson, of Kellettville, were among our pleasant callers Monday afternoon.

—G. F. Rodda is polishing the inner side of the Randall house, corner Elm and Hillsides street, expecting to occupy it with his family soon.

—Miss Edith Weingard, of German Hill, went to Jamestown, N. Y., Friday evening, for a visit with her sister, Mrs. George W. Meader.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wilson King of Church Hill were visitors in Tionesta Wednesday afternoon and gave the REPUBLICAN office a call during their stay.

—Mrs. F. C. Proper entertained a large number of her lady friends in elegantly appointed dinner parties at her home on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

—Mrs. Floyd Proper of Tionesta, enjoyed "Ye Open Gate," and while in Warren was the guest of Mrs. S. E. Walker. —Warren Times, Thursday.

—Glenn Ledebur went to Tidoute Saturday night to attend a lecture given by Capt. Hobson, and spent Sunday there as the guest of Prof. F. W. Gill. And Hobson failed to appear.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Haslet left last week for a sojourn in Florida, expecting to be in Jacksonville most of the time, but will visit other sections of the state before returning home. Gordon had quite recovered from his serious illness of the fore part of the winter.

—Miss Orpha Whitton was very pleasantly surprised Saturday afternoon when twenty-two of her young girl friends gathered at her home to celebrate her eleventh birthday. The affair was planned and carried out as a complete surprise and the company spent a jolly time with games, ending with refreshments at six o'clock.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Fulton entertained a large number of friends in a "500" party in the Central House parlors Friday evening and the hours to midnight were very pleasantly spent. A fine two-course luncheon served in the dining room proved an equally enjoyable feature, the favors being small flatbreads, souvenirs of the dawning birth of the immortal George.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Koford, of Silver Creek, N. Y., were visitors in Tionesta, Thursday and Friday. The family residing here ten years ago, Mr. Koford being employed in the cabinet department of the mantel works, and they found many friends here to welcome them. Mr. Koford is now a prosperous building contractor at Silver Creek and a part of his mission to this section was to purchase lumber, and of course he came to the right place in coming to Forest county.

—The open meeting of the Mendelssohn Club Wednesday evening with Miss Jennings was one of great pleasure and satisfaction to the invited guests, of which there were many. The program covered a list of attractive numbers rendered in a pleasurable manner by the club members, with an exceedingly attractive addition by Mrs. Felt and Miss Lanson, of Tionesta, who well sustained their well deserved reputation and who are always welcome additions to Tidoute's musical "colony." —Tidoute News.

—C. P. Cloak, general passenger agent of the Sheffield & Tionesta railroad with offices at Kellettville, has accepted a position as assistant cashier of the Gold Standard National bank of Marienville, to take effect the first of April. He is well known in the community and has a host of friends who will wish him good luck in his new position. Mr. Cloak has a fine business education, having graduated from the Eastman Business College at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., one of the finest colleges in this line in the states. He has worked himself up within the past five years to the present position which he holds.

—Dan Small passed through here a few days ago on his way to Nebraska on the Sheffield & Tionesta railroad, to visit his parents for a few days. Dan is running a skating rink at Olean and is doing well. He has even done so well that he had a life partner with him when he arrived at this place. When interviewed as to when all this happened, he stated that he had entered the matrimonial game three months ago. That is keeping it pretty quiet. He married an Olean girl and certainly won a handsome bride. We wish Dan good luck in his wedded life, though rather belated in giving him these greetings. —Sheffield cor. Warren Mirror, 19th.

February Court Minutes.

The regular term of February court convened Monday morning with President Judge W. D. Hinkley and Associates Samuel Ault and Joseph M. Morgan on the bench. There is a large attendance of jurors, witnesses and attorneys. Nineteen grand jurors and forty-eight petit jurors answered to their names at roll call.

On account of this being an oyer and terminer court, with a case of a felonious nature to be tried, an extra panel of ten jurors was drawn last Saturday, as follows: James Ault, assessor, Kingsley; Clifford Babb, pumper, Kingsley; E. W. Bowman, bookkeeper, Tionesta Boro; J. J. Hawk, oil producer, Jenks; John Passauer, farmer, Tionesta Township; Lewis Arner, bookkeeper, Kingsley; Albert Vockroth, farmer, Green; R. O. Carson, farmer, Harmony; H. O. Taft, sawyer, Hickory; Earl Moore, laborer, Green.

The Grand Jury was called and sworn. Judge Hinkley delivering an impressive charge as to their duties. Joseph Clark, of Tionesta, was appointed as their foreman.

The constables of the various townships made their reports to the court, which showed a good state of affairs throughout the county and very few violations of the law.

In the case of E. M. Porter et al. vs. The Tionesta Water Supply Co., an action for a peremptory mandamus to compel the company to extend its water lines in the north ward in Tionesta Boro, the court read a lengthy opinion returning the petition at the cost of the petitioners. Exceptions were taken by counsel for the petitioners.

In the case of George R. Johnson, to use of Citizens National Bank of Tionesta, vs. J. F. Proper et al., the court read an opinion making the rule for judgment absolute and directed the Prothonotary to enter judgment against J. F. Proper for the amount of plaintiff's claim.

The case of James Wray vs. Daniel McKenna, an action of ejectment, was discontinued on payment of costs by the plaintiff.

In the case of Christine Wert vs. James D. Wert, a subpoena in divorce was granted, returnable at May term of court.

The petition of Fred. Weingard, guardian of the minor children of C. E. Weingard, late of Green township, deceased, for leave to lease land for oil and gas purposes to W. F. Fessler, of Jamestown, Pa., was allowed.

The petition of Emma Blum, administratrix of the estate of Herman Blum, late of Green township, deceased, for leave to sell real estate to pay debts, was allowed.

A motion for judgment was allowed in the case of C. M. Arner, for use of J. F. Proper, vs. D. E. Carson, defendant, and Ida Carson, terre tenant.

The final and final account of Charles C. Frederick, executor of the estate of Elizabeth Frederick, late of Green township, deceased, was confirmed nisi.

The bond of N. B. Swartzfager, Collector of Howe township, in the sum of $10,000.00, was approved.

The case of the Borough of Tionesta vs. Ida Paup, was continued to May term of court.

A jury was called in the case of the Union Machinery & Supply Co., of the State of Washington, vs. W. J. Campbell and D. J. Cropp, doing business as Cropp & Campbell. The plaintiffs presented their evidence in the form of depositions and the defendants made no defense, whereupon the court directed the jury to render a verdict for the plaintiffs for the amount of their claim, $784.47.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. P. Phillips, charge f. and b., was settled out of court.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Maude Hulings, charged with felonious arson and with burning a building to defraud the insurance company, the Grand Jury returned the indictment endorsed not a true bill, and the defendant was discharged. This case grew out of the burning of a dwelling house owned by Charles Fulton, at Pigeon, Howe township, on the morning of Dec. 19, 1911, the premises being occupied at the time by the defendant, her husband and family.

A true bill was returned in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Warren Hepler, charged with assault and battery, and aggravated assault and battery, Orrie E. Walter, prosecutor. The case was tried Tuesday morning, the jury rendering a verdict of not guilty and dividing the costs between the prosecutor and the defendant.

The case of Dunn, Landers & Co., to use of J. F. Proper, vs. Keystone Handle Company, of Corydon, was placed on trial Tuesday afternoon and will probably occupy two days of the court's time. It is a case involving timber furnished to the defendants at Kellettville. This being the last case to be tried at this term, all Petit Jurors, excepting those called on the case, were excused from further service.

The Grand Jury finished its deliberations Tuesday noon and after inspecting the county buildings in the afternoon, was discharged.

—The Franklin Evening News, one of the best inland dailies in the state, had a birthday last week, its 35th, and so did the FOREST REPUBLICAN, completing its 45th volume with last week's issue. We congratulate both on their years of usefulness, and trust they'll live to double their age and to do battle for the betterment of their respective communities in the future as in the past. There's a heap of satisfaction in looking back over the past and feel that you've always done your best, notwithstanding the discouragements and disappointments that have been met with along the way. And so, folks, we better keep pegging away till we shall hear the invitation to "come up higher, faithful dogs, your efforts for your fellow sufferers have not all been in vain."

Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Rev. James A. Lewis, Milaca, Minn., writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been a needed and welcome guest in our home for a number of years. I highly recommend it to my fellow sufferers as being a medicine worthy of trial in cases of colds, coughs and croup." Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a trial and we are confident you will find it very effective and continue to use it as occasion requires for years to come, as many others have done. For sale by all druggists. —Advt.

A Large Timber Deal.

A timber sale of considerable magnitude was closed here last Wednesday morning when Harry H. Watson, of this place, sold his three-sixteenths interest in the firm of Coleman, Watson & Co., who own the valuable Clapp lands timber in Tionesta township, and who have their saw mill at the mouth of Johns run, two miles up Tionesta creek from this place, to H. M. Alexander, of Williamsport, Pa. The consideration was private. The owners of the property now are John Coleman, of Williamsport, T. H. Harter and John F. McCormick, of Lock Haven, and Mr. Alexander. Coleman, Harter & Co. will be the name under which they will transact their business and they are preparing to start up their mill about April 1st and to keep things humming. They have a modern plant in every way and during the winter have added a stove mill to work up a great deal of their hardwood timber. A new locomotive is ordered for their log road and when it is in commission they will have no trouble in keeping their mill supplied with logs. The firm now has a million feet of pine lumber piled in their mill yard, which they are awaiting a favorable opportunity to move, it having been sold. Mr. Alexander is a practical lumberman, having previously been with Mr. Coleman for eight years, but at present is superintendent of the plant of the Enterprise Lumber Co., at Markleton, Somerset county. Mr. Watson is undecided as to his future plans, but expects to go to Lamson, Ala., this week for a visit.

James Byler had the misfortune to get his left hand caught in the machinery while at work on the mill Saturday and it was quite painfully hurt. The flesh was torn on the thumb, the first finger was broken beyond the second joint, the second finger was crushed the entire length, and the third finger to the first joint. Dr. Deater dressed his hand and while they expect to save the fingers it will lay him off a month or more.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frill of Lickingville visited the former's sister, Mrs. W. D. Deater, and other friends in town over Sunday.

Rev. Henry Smalingerberger conducted quarterly meeting services for District Supt. Rich at the Watson Farm Friday evening.

Miss Kate Guenther had a half holiday at her school at Porkley Friday. Messrs. Robbins and Ault were up papering the school house.

Mrs. Fred McNaughton was up from Nebraska several days during the week assisting her sister Mrs. Blum care for her daughter Margaret, who was quite sick with the measles. She was accompanied home Saturday by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Dotterer, who will visit with her several weeks.

The pupils in Misses Blanche Hendricks and Edith Gayley's rooms presented a very pleasing Washington's birthday program to the directors and other patrons and friends of the school on Friday afternoon. Each number was given with credit to both teacher and pupil. It being director's day each one of the rooms had a good display of excellent work done by the pupils, and the visitors took great pleasure in looking over this work.

Frances Peterson has been quite sick all week with measles and pneumonia. Mrs. Sanford Secor was up from Nebraska Saturday and spent the day with Dr. and Mrs. C. Y. Deater, and other friends in town.

Mrs. John McDonald and son, of Hickory, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Blum Tuesday.

Mr. Bentley was a business visitor in Ohio the first of the week.

Some fifty persons went to Mayburg Saturday evening by special train to attend quarterly conference held there. Dr. Rich preached in the M. E. church Sunday evening.

Arthur and Alta Jensen were both quite sick for the past week with pneumonia. Mr. Rogers will move his family to Whig Hill in the near future.

Mrs. M. Andrews was over from Tionesta and spent the day in town Thursday.

Mrs. Chas. Bauer was down from Warren and visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Whitton, and other relatives and friends in town.

Mrs. Wm. Sizle has been confined to her bed during the week with liver trouble.

Bruce Lorom returned from the Warren hospital the first of the week greatly improved in health.

Mrs. C. P. Cloak has been sick all week with pneumonia. Mr. Cloak has accepted a position in the bank at Marienville and will soon leave for that place.

John Sterling is moving his family to Titusville this week.

Bulah Hall came down from Warren where she has been attending school, on Thursday and spent the day with her aunt, Mrs. John Watson. She was sick and was on her way home to rest for a few days.

Mrs. Ella Wilson was in Buffalo last week selecting her spring millinery.

Meetings will begin in the F. M. church the first of March.

Frances Russell Alton Klinefelter and several of Jenkins' children had measles this week.

Vivian Dingle and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dotterer spent Sunday at the former's home at Buck Mills.

F. B. Robbins is fitting up the lower part of their residence for a baking room where they will have all kinds of fresh baked stuff for sale. They furnish each of the stores with all they sell each week.
